REVIEWERS COMMENTS
 How academic leadership promotes job performance? The mediating role of organizational climate
 Hidayati
 The study intends to investigate the relationship between academic leadership and job performance mediated by organizational climate through panel data regression (PDR) and analysis. Regional research shows that academic leadership plays an important role in creating an organizational climate. In the same time, assessing the relationship between climate will also significantly affect job performance. Therefore, studying the research is critically important. But there are some problems in all systems for email folder reduction for the author.

Dear author,

Before publication, it is decided that this final proof should be sent to the authors once again for careful reading and re-check, to rule out the mistakes / errors of all kinds.

Download "final proof". Read them carefully with particular reference to the following points:

1. Check with care all the symbols in the text. If some corrections are left out, highlight them and attach notes on how to correct directly in the PDF file.
2. No revision will be allowed after the final proof.

Please return the corrected final proof ASAP.

It is our mutual responsibility that the academic works published in the journal should be "mistake or error free" and of quality as well. Our attention and efforts to this would make the journal still better, besides enhancing the utility of your published research.

Kind regards,

Dear chief editors,

Thank you for this positive information. Everything looks clear, except in Figure 1 regarding the variables, don't truncate them. Please adjust the file (clean copy) that we attach. Please your wisdom.

Best wishes,
Dr. Tetra Hidayati
