Dear Dr. Syaiful Choiri,

As per your request, the Wiley Transfer Desk Assistant has forwarded your submission entitled "Palm stearin and olein binary mixture incorporated into nano-structured lipid carrier: improvement food functionality for micronutrient delivery" to Journal of Food Processing and Preservation. All the manuscript files and details of the submission have been entered into the system on your behalf and are ready for your approval and completion of the submission.

Please log in to <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jfpp> using your account credentials and complete the submission. If you have not yet previously authored with this journal, you may have recently received an account creation email that includes your User ID and a password reset link. Please follow the steps outlined therein to activate your account and access the draft submission.

If a decision was made by the previous journal Editors without external peer review, the manuscript and related files transferred from the previous journal can be considered directly by the Editors and Reviewers of Journal of Food Processing and Preservation. However, if you would like to adjust the manuscript (e.g., to correct a typo or an error in the data), you have the opportunity to replace the manuscript file in the system prior to completing the submission.

If your submission was previously evaluated by external reviewers, there is no obligation to revise your manuscript or respond to the reviewers' comments at this stage. However, it may facilitate the evaluation process if you provide a response letter and/or a revised version of the manuscript addressing some or all of the reviewers' concerns, as the peer-review reports from the previous submission will be made available to the Editors of Journal of Food Processing and Preservation. If you choose to do this, you should upload the response letter and replace the manuscript file in the system with the updated version prior to completing the submission.

You may also need to respond to additional submission questions unique to Journal of Food Processing and Preservation, and we encourage you to check carefully all of the transferred information and files. If a Cover Letter was supplied, this should be updated to reflect the name of the new journal and Editor.

We ask that you complete the submission at your earliest convenience.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Regards,
Wiley Transfer Desk Assistant
