Dear Authors,

Please use the table below to include your feedback regarding the reviewers' comments and the revisions made. Copy the feedback from the reviewer in column 1 and your response in column 2. Kindly refer to specific page numbers in your response where needed. In addition, please indicate the revision in the actual manuscript in two different colors (i.e., blue for reviewer 1, and red for reviewer 2).

RE-SUBMISSION: TABLE OF CORRECTIONS

MANUSCRIPT NAME: Bank concentration and stability in Central Asia; The effect of capital regulation and financial freedom

MANUSCRIPT NUMBER: 733

	Reviewer 1 Comments (please copy and paste the reviewer's feedback into this column)	Author's Comments/Response (Indicated in blue in the manuscript)
	Column 1	Column 2
1	In the introduction section, the author should add more detail about the banking conditions in Central Asia. The author should also focus on the research gap theoretical framework and contribution of the study.	I thank the reviewer for the suggestion. A paragraph that discusses the aforementioned point has been added in the manuscript. Please find the details below atau please find the details in the track-changes version of the manuscript.
2	The conclusion section needs improvement. The author should justify the findings through appropriate reasons, supported by relevant literature. Practical implications and suggestions need to be added
3	Future direction and limitation of the study is missing
	Reviewer 2 Comments (please copy and paste the reviewer's feedback into this column)	Author's Comments/Response (Indicated in red in the manuscript)
1	Various grammar mistakes were noted. Articles "a" vs. "the" are often misused. In addition, single vs. plural words are lisyed in several instances.	I thank the reviewer for pointing this out. I have modified my sentence to clarify my message. Thank you for your suggestions. I have restructured my introduction to highlight the importance of the issues discussed in this paper. I provide justification whether such issues are contextually relevant to be studied using Central Asian countries. I also have restructured the paper and to my best knowledge, it is already consistent with the mentioned aspects, including the objectives and contribution part.
2	The relevance of the study was not sufficiently disclosed: why exactly this problem needs to be studied now and in the aspect chosen by the author.
3	The formulated purpose of the study does not correspond to the results of the study.
4	There is no description of the objectives of scientific research: what needs to be done to achieve the goal?
5	The significance of the results of the research for science has not been substantiated: what were problems, concepts, branches of science are changes aimed at the development of science and replenishing its content.
6	There is no justification for the value of scientific results for practice: what specific shortcomings can be corrected using the results obtained during the study.

7	The listed characteristics make up a system, all elements of which must correspond to each other, complement each other. By the degree of their coordination, one can judge the quality of the scientific work itself. The system of methodological characteristics of scientific research acts as a generalized indicator of its quality. They are missing in this article!!!

We (the authors/corresponding author of this manuscript) acknowledge that we have taken all recommendations as provided by the reviewers into consideration, as discussed in the above table. We understand that if we did not adhere to or address all of the recommendations, this might delay the outcome of our publication.
