Reviewer A:

1. The problem statement and the motivation that led to the objective of the study is unclear.

2. The literature review is supposed to be a critical review on existing studies, but it seems that it only discusses the degree of fiscal decentralization and the determinants. Need to include relevant and current studies.

3. In my opinion, the model should come before the data and variables descriptions.

4. "It is hoped that the degree of decentralization of ROI tax on RR in Samarinda City is large, which will provide great results for Samarinda City to finance all development." This sentence is a bit confusing. What does it mean? Is this the hypothesis to be tested?

5. "And other data deemed necessary in the study" - What is meant by this sentence? What kind of data is deemed as necessary?

6. Is it necessary to construct all 6 different measures? Or maybe there is insufficient explanation on what is DFD1, DFD2 and the difference between them.

7. The conclusion should be written in paragraph rather than point form.

8. There are some grammatical errors. Need to be proof-read before submission.
