Readers Insight

———— Publisher of open access books and journals ————

Dear Dr. Dio Caisar Darma,

Publish with JPVAI

Journal of Public Value and Administrative Insight (JPVAI) is inviting your original, theoretical, empirical, quantitative and qualitative research in the broad field of public value and administration. This includes recent development in the areas of public value, management, and administrative sciences as well as interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as governance, personnel administration, human resource management, organizational behavior, sustainability, innovation, leadership studies, marketing, commerce, finance, economic and operations management.

JPVAI is an open-access journal, and publishing in it would help you reach your research to a wider audience. In order to fight against this prevailing threat to humanity, through a novel and insightful research, we are waiving of article processing charges (APC) for the month of July 2020.

Submit now through our online submission system. Your articles will be accepted or rejected by a double-blind review system.

Why publish with us?

1. Fast publication: the average time it takes from submission to first decision and acceptance of the manuscript is 25 days.
2. Open access: Our journal is open access which means articles are available online for free download, reading, and citations. Which means your research has a wider reader base.
3. Publication Cost: we charge a very nominal fee (US$100) for publication with additional benefits and further discounts available, especially for Connecting ASIA members. (we are waiving off all APCs till 31th July 2020).
4. Wide Network: we have a strategic alliance with Connecting ASIA (SDN BDN), a leading name in conducting academic conferences and providers of conference solutions. We promote and display our printed journals in Connecting ASIA's conferences. We share our published research on various social and academic
